CURRENT WORK

Alongside an Italian course in Florence, I am working on a number of freelance design projects.

– I am producing drawings to help communicate products between clients and artisans, for the charity Turquoise Mountain.

– I am employed by an independent interior designer to create 3D renders and architectural drawings of commercial projects, that include a spa in Scotland and a number of hotel beach huts in Palm Island.

– I am the lead designer on a two bedroom residential project in Dalston, London.
